FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

OFF-CAMPUS CLASSES OFFERED AT RANTOUL

CHARLESTON--Eastern Illinois University will offer two off-campus classes at Rantoul High School in April.

"The Restless Atmosphere," offered three weekends in April, is a three semester hour course designed to provide a general understanding of the processes which operate within the atmosphere, such as earth-sun relationships, heat and temperature, precipitation, air pressure and winds, hurricanes, tornadoes and severe weather, climate change and climatic classifications.

The class will meet April 8-9, 15-16 and 22-23 on Fridays from 6 to 10 p.m. and on Saturdays from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.

It will be taught by Belayet Khan, an associate professor of geology and geography at Eastern. The class has no prerequisite and costs $242.70.

"Environmental Pollution," April 29-30, is a one semester hour course that will examine various forms of environmental problems related to pollution from a scientific viewpoint. Contemporary conservation issues of reducing, reusing and recycling resources are emphasized in class discussions with special reference to the
